E. 201.

Medicamentum, est omne id, quod corpus nostrum alterare potest, & a statu non naturali ad naturam solum reducere. — quia ratione ab Alimento & Venis differt.

Alimentum est quod a corpore nostro immutari, illique assimilari potest.

Quoniam vero quamvis corpori nostro assimilari non possit, non tamen idcirco solum alterare dici possit: cum & coarctandi viam habeat.

Medicamentum ergo medicum non est inter Alimenta & Venenum, (sicut enim illud corpori non adversatur ita neque medicamentum, uti a. venenum corpus nostrum alterat, ita & medicamentum) neque enim est corpori nostro ita familiare, ut ei assi-milari possit, neque adeo infestum, ut coarctet, sed tantum qualitatibus suis afficiat atque alteret.

The first part of the book is devoted to a description of the various species of plants which are found in the island of Java. The author has been very particular in his descriptions, and has given many interesting particulars of their habits and uses. He has also mentioned the names of the several tribes to which they belong, and the countries from whence they were first brought into Europe. This part of the book is very valuable, and is highly recommended to all who are interested in the natural history of the East Indies.

La Théologie a le ſoin principal de l'annu: & après elle la Philoſophie morale.

La Jurisprudence, retenue aux loix humaines, traite des biens & appartenances de l'homme, rendant a chacun le ſien. Entre deux eſt la Médecine, conſervant le corps en ſanté, obſervant les maladies, & préſervant de mort, autaut que Dieu le permet.

Donc ſi l'ex-cellence des professions eſt eſtimée des ſubjects, comme elle doit eſtre, la Médecine tiendra le ſecond lieu. Car l'annu eſt plus que le corps,

4. // VI. Math: 25.

// XII. Luca: 23.

— Puis donc que l'homme eſt la choſe plus digne qui ſoit au monde, la ſcience ordonnée pour ſa préſervation eſt la plus excellente de toutes, après celle qui concerne proprement ſon créateur. Car l'homme eſt la plus digne créature de toutes: & par conſéquent, l'art ou ſcience, qui le maintient en vie & ſanté, eſt le plus excellent de tous les arts humains.

Dont ils ſont que Eſculape, le premier qui a fait profeſſion de ceſt'art, fut ſon fils, père de Macbaon de laquelle l'hiſtoire eſt des plus anciennes au monde.

Vray eſt que les Romains ſ'en ſont paſſez environ ſix cents

Hipp:

Il y a plusieurs Medecins de nom & reputation, mais peu de fait. Car il faut a celuy qui doit vrayement acquerir la connoissance de Medecine, avoir ces six conditions: i. le Naturel, ii. la Discipline,
iii. les bonnes manières, iv. la doctrine des son enfance,
v. aymer la peine, vi. & avoir le temps requis, &c.
Avec ces il viendra bon Medecin, non seulement

The first part of the book is devoted to a general history of the world, from the beginning of time to the present day. The author discusses the various civilizations that have flourished on the earth, and the progress of human knowledge and industry. He also touches upon the political and social changes that have shaped the course of history.

The second part of the book is a detailed account of the discovery and settlement of the Americas. The author describes the voyages of Christopher Columbus and other explorers, and the subsequent colonization of the continent. He also discusses the impact of the discovery of America on the rest of the world, and the role of the United States in the development of the Western Hemisphere.

The third part of the book is a history of the United States, from the time of its independence to the present. The author discusses the various events and figures that have shaped the nation's history, and the progress of its institutions and society. He also touches upon the challenges that the United States has faced, and the role of its citizens in the development of the country.

The first part of the book is devoted to a description of the
 country. The author has been very particular in his descriptions, and has given many interesting particulars of their habits and properties. He has also given a list of the medicinal plants which are used in the country, and has described the manner in which they are prepared and used. The second part of the book is devoted to a description of the various species of animals which are found in the country. The author has been very particular in his descriptions, and has given many interesting particulars of their habits and properties. He has also given a list of the medicinal animals which are used in the country, and has described the manner in which they are prepared and used.

The third part of the book is devoted to a description of the various species of minerals which are found in the country. The author has been very particular in his descriptions, and has given many interesting particulars of their habits and properties. He has also
